

OPTIC & SCIENTIFIC TOYS

We have been producing toys in the optics and didactics field since 1968, managing the entire production line: creation, design and construction are the activities that have always characterized the core business of NAVIR.

The constant comparison with technological innovations and the use of certified materials have enabled our company to position itself at the top of the world market through the marketing of its own products.

The compliance with the ergonomic parameters and the standards for the end user's protection, together with the high-tech design and a particularly high quality/price ratio, make our toys unique and inimitable.

since 1968
